Death of Mrs. Oliver Brooke.

On Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. Oliver Brooke, at her home on East Second street, after an illness of some weeks with heart trouble. The aged husband and family have the deep sympathy of the entire community. Mrs. Brooke was an excellent woman and loved by all who knew her. She was 76 years of age last March, and the mother of six children; one son died in infancy, and her youngest son, Sam Brooke, died about a year ago. There are living, Mr. Will Brooke and Miss Ruth Brooke at home, Mrs. Belle Brooke Jones, of Marysville, and Mr. Frank Brooke, of Midland, Pa., also two step-children, Miss Emma Brooke, of New York, and Mr. Charles Brooke, deceased. She has living, a brother and a sister, Judge S. H. Bright and Mrs. Linn Houston, of Logan.

Mrs. Brooke was a kind and indulgent mother. The funeral occurred from the home at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Correll officiating.

MEMOIR.

Louisa Elizabeth Bright was born March 1st, 1833, near Logan, Ohio, and departed this life November 15th, 1909, at her home in Logan. She was married to Mr. Oliver Brooke, January 30th, 1860. Six children were born to this marriage, of whom four survive the death of the mother, together with her husband. The surviving children are, William H. Brooke, Grocer, Logan, Ohio; Frank E. Brooke, Book keeper, Midland, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Belle Jones, Marysville, Ohio; and Miss Ruth Brooke, a teacher in the Logan public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooke have lived in Logan nearly all of their married life, where they have maintained a good name; and the family in this time of bereavement is surrounded by host of sympathizing friends.

The ancestors of the deceased were Methodists for generations back; both her father and his father having been local preachers. She was converted in childhood and joined the Methodist church, of which she remained a faithful member until her death. She obeyed the injunction of Paul to the Corinthians: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord."

Her charitable ministrations to the poor, the sick and afflicted, were unostentatious, but constant, timely, full of kindness and will long be cherished by the many, who were cheered and comforted by her visits.

For many years she was the successful teacher of a class of boys in our Sunday school. The boys stayed with her until she was forced by bodily infirmity to give up teaching.

Many of the boys continued in her class until they had passed through the high-school, and had far exceeded their teacher in general education; but they still cling to "Aunt Lou," as they familiarly called her, regarding it as a privilege to be a member of this notable class.

She will be missed from church circles and church work; she will be missed from the homes of distress. But above all she will be missed from her own family home, where she so long reigned the queen of love and motherly devotion.

"This eye must be dark that so long has been dim.
"Ere again it may gaze upon thine;
"But my heart has revelations of thee and thy home.
"In many a token and sign:
"I never look up with a vow to the sky.
"But a light like thy beauty is there;
"And I hear a low murmur like thine in reply.
"When I pour out my spirit in prayer,
"Thou art there."
Funeral service conducted by Rev. Correll.

The following persons from out-of-town attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brooke, of Columbus; Miss Ella Brooke, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Keller, of Lang; and Mrs. Nether, of Pleasantville; Mr. and Mrs. Hez Brooke, of Lancaster; Dr. and Mrs. Mills, of Marysville; Mrs. W. H. Pyle, of New Lexington; Miss Bess Williamson, of Hooker, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones, of Marysville.

Clint Huls Lands the Job.

A great contest of political power was waged in Rockbridge, in the past month as to who should be appointed postmaster, vice "Big" Huls resigned. Wm. Welter and Clint Huls were the applicants. Welter had the endorsement of about all thereabouts, it is said, but Huls had the long political pole, and knocked the permission. Bully for Clint, and bully for Bill. May the swords never be sheathed.

Death of Little Winifred Price.

One of the sad bereavements that has come to a pleasant home in Logan, was the death, Friday morning of last week, of little Winifred Price, six and half years old, interesting and precious little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Price. The child had never been very strong, and all the more closely did its life weave into the hearts of the fond parents and into the joy of the relatives. The older brother, Edwin, was especially kind to her, and took her riding often. She had endeared herself to the hearts of her little school mates, and was a general favorite. Some weeks ago the cruel hand of sickness closed in upon her, and the malady she suffered with was throat trouble, and finally a congestion set in that took the little soul back to its Maker. Like the fitting bird that flies in at the window and flutters about to cheer us awhile, and then flies out and is gone. The precious daughter cheered this home and made the parents and the grandpa so happy for awhile, and then took its departure to be with God who gave it.

On Monday afternoon the funeral was held from the home, Rev. C. R. Wilson, offering words of comfort, assisted in the service by Rev. A. W. Buckland. The little girl leaves in deep grief her papa and mamma, and little brother Edwin, and grandpa, Mr. Ed Price, and is borne away mid a profusion of flowers, and amid the deep sympathy of a multitude of friends.

A precious darling came to cheer us
From the hand who gave us light,
Bound itself to us so near us,
Then back to God has winged its flight.
Come awhile and taught us patience,
Taught us how to love, most true;
Left its message, "Peace and Penance,"
Went away to mansion new.

Chris Judy Killed.

Christ Judy, 48, a lineman employed by the Scioto Valley Traction company, at Winchester and Columbus, was electrocuted Thursday morning, when 1750 volts of electricity passed through him while he was working on an adjustment of the high tension wires just outside the power house at Reese's Station.

A physician was called immediately after the accident, but he saw at once that there was no hope for the man unless he could be rushed to a large hospital, where all scientific means of resuscitation were at hand.

Shaw's ambulance was called, but the man was beyond all earthly aid.

Mr. Judy lived in Canal Winchester with his wife and family, and had been employed by the traction company for a long time.

About 7:45 a. m. he was at work making an adjustment of the high tension wires outside the power house.

A steel tape he was using, came in contact with the high voltage wires and Judy dropped like a shot.

Beyond some slight burns where the wires had come in contact with his flesh, there were no marks of the terrible tragedy.

The wife and family were notified of the awful death of the husband and father, and were almost prostrated.

The deceased, Chris Judy, was a brother of Mrs. Ed. Springer, of Logan, who attended the funeral. He was born and raised in Perry Township, in this county, where his aged father lives and where he was well and favorably known.

Conference of Methods.

On Monday afternoon and evening there was held at the U. B. Church in Logan a very good and well attended meeting of the congregation and citizens to hold conference of methods in the matter of "Man's Stewardship to God." The meeting was of the missionary nature and the addresses were most eloquent and interesting. Rev. M. W. Muma, a missionary of the Philippine Islands addressed the meetings fervently on the subject of the Missions in the U. S. Government's new possessions. Rev. J. S. Kendal, of Cleveland, Rev. S. E. Dougherty, of Westerville, and Rev. J. H. Harris, of Hillsboro, were speakers on the occasion and very ably presented the subjects to the large and attentive audiences, and the meetings were of much good to our people and to the cause of Missions.

Death of an Infant.

We are sorry to learn of the death Tuesday of little Pansy Glenn, nine-month old child of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Glenn, of near Gibsonsville.

Railroad News.

Yardmaster J. R. Smith and wife were in Columbus, Wednesday.

Engineer Warren Bennett is laying off this week and Cy Walker is taking care of his run.

That "glad wagon," called the pay car, on the H. V. Ry. came to Logan, Monday, and distributed about $30,000.00 among the employees at this point. $23,000.00 went to the shops boys. A nice pile of money to drop into a town every month.

A bunch of Panama newspapers were recently received by Mr. James Grigsby of this city, from his brother, F. C. Grigsby, who is at present engineer on the government relief train, with headquarters at Bas Obispo, Panama Canal Zone. Part of the paper is printed in English and the other in Spanish.

Messrs. James Grigsby and Wm. Matthews had a narrow escape from being seriously injured Tuesday evening at the car shops. They were working under a Railroad car when the yard crew backed in on the cut, shoving them about a car length and a half. Both men saved themselves by grasping the car axle and holding on until the car was stopped. Both came out of it with only a few bruises to show for the narrow escape.

On Sunday the R. R. Shops here were compelled to work on some stuff that necessarily must go out, and two of the help came very near losing their lives. Messrs. Porter Vaughn and Joe Sayre were working along beside a pile of car beds, which were being lifted by the heavy crane. The removal of the top car frame gave the pile a slip, and they fell, catching Vaughn on the arm terribly crushing it, and Sayre was injured on the foot, two bones being broken. The former is able to be out, but carries the arm in a sling. They were both very fortunate not to have been killed in the crash.

A large "spill" happened on the River Division at the Starr hill, Wednesday morning. When extra freight number 5 was coming north down the hill, a flange broke and nine cars rolled down the bank and spread out over the right-of-way in most boisterous manner. It was the middle of the train and not a soul was hurt, but it certainly did bump things around, some. The south bound Jackson passenger train leaving Logan at 7:30 a. m. was compelled to return to Logan after going as far as Union Furnace. Number 130, the regular Pomeroy passenger train never left Logan. At this writing the track is put in condition and the traffic is resumed, but the wreck is not all cleared away as yet. The train was in charge of Conductor Buntz, and Engineer Lehman and Williams.

H. V. SHOPS, COLUMBUS.

Two men were badly injured, the roof blown off the building and a threatening fire started at 1:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, when a small tank of gas exploded at the Hocking Valley round house, west of Dennison avenue.

The explosion of the gas tank was followed immediately by that of a boiler.

Two men, William Bulkley of Clintonville, an employee, and C. O. Carter, watchman, were blown several yards and sustained painful injuries from the second explosion.

The roof was rent and torn from the building, which otherwise stood intact and undamaged. Fire broke out almost instantly after the second explosion and threatened to destroy the building and its contents.

The damage was limited however to about $300 by the prompt and effective work of the fire companies.

Just what caused the explosion of the gas tank could not be ascertained.

The explosion of the boiler was a resulting effect of the first explosion. The compact of the boiler explosion shook the community for a radius of several squares and many people were startled from their sleep.

William Bulkley was the most painfully injured of the two men caught in the disaster.

Hunting Season Is On.

Monday of this week the "open season" for hunting was ushered in, and will last about three weeks. The brown velvet corduroy, supporting a gun and leading a dog may be seen on every road leading from town, and the crack of the gun is heard in every direction. The newspapers are full of news of accidents, and farmers' "no hunting" notices. Hunting is a dangerous proposition, but men will go hunting as long as the world stands. It is hard work and makes tired and sore bodies, but it is great sport; and the harvest of birds and bunnies are very good grub.

A Social Gathering.

November 14, 1909, an enjoyable time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Engle, two miles north of Enterprise. Mrs. Engle invited a few of her friends in to have a pleasurable time. The delicious looking table gave everyone a good appetite. Diphtheria.

We do not like to show our sore toes or perform the stunt of a calamity howler, or give warning that the "wolf is coming" if there is no wolf, but by the looks of the diphtheria cards on many houses in Logan and increasing every day, the matter should be taken up, looking to closing the schools for awhile. We do not like to see the schools closed, nor do we believe in the policy of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen.

Automobile Show.

During the week between Christmas and New Year's, The Columbus Automobile Club will hold its first Automobile Show. Every foot of space in the immense Columbus auditorium, the largest structure of its kind in Ohio, has been reserved for the exhibits. Booming Dick.

Columbus, O., Nov. 15.—Word comes from Cincinnati today that George B. Cox, the Republican political boss of that city, has decided to bring out Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of ex-president Roosevelt, as a candidate for governor. Longworth would have the Hamilton county delegation solid at the State convention, and his nomination would be almost assured.

Cox believes there is still a strong Roosevelt sentiment in Ohio which would carry Longworth through.
